

International Plant Physiology Virtual Conference-2020
Prospects of Plant Physiology for Climate Proofing Agriculture
6-7 December, 2020 at 10:00AM-05:00PM (IST)

Junior & Young Scientist Awards

1. Criteria for selection Maximum ten participants will be selected based on the score in academics, publications and significant research findings

- Age limit: < 40 years as on 06/12/2020

2. Score Card for Selection

S.No.	Attributes	Marks
1.	Importance and relevance of research findings presented (background, review of literature, hypothesis and significant findings)	20
2.	Slide preparation and presentation	10
3.	Confidence level	10
4.	Observing time limit	10
5.	Capability to answer the questions	15
6.	Academic excellence (Recipient of CSIR, UGC, INSPIRE, Rajiv Gandhi any other Important National Fellowship/Gold Medal)	10
7.	Publications (No. of publications with NAAS rating)	25
	Total	100

3. Detailed guidelines:

- Area of the research should be in-line with the Societies mandated areas of research.
- The candidate must give a power point presentation and adhere to the time limit i.e. eight minutes for presentation and 2 minutes for answering the queries raised by the experts/audience. Exceeding the time limit will have negative marking.
- The candidate will be judged on the basis of capability to answer maximum questions.
- Academic excellence weightage: >60% marks at B.Sc. (1 mark), M.Sc. (2 mark) and Ph.D. (2 marks), and National Fellowship/University Gold Medal (5 marks). CSIR, UGC, INSPIRE, Rajiv Gandhi any other Important National Fellowship (2.5 marks each)
- Publications other than NAAS rating journals will get 1.5 marks each. Patent granted 5 marks each, patent filed 3 marks each.

4. CV format

Applied for: Junior Scientist award Young scientist award Both

01	Name:	02	Designation:
03	Address:	04	Date of birth:

05. Qualification:

Degree	University/Institute	Percentage marks	Year
B.Sc.
M.Sc.
Ph.D.
Any other

06. Fellowship/University Gold Medal

07. Publication in referred journal with NAAS rating

08. Current area of Research

09. Abstract